

EVOLUTION TO A NEW EARTH

An unprecedented evolutionary shift is taking place on the Earth at this time which will require each of us to make a choice: move into a new reality of consciousness or remain in a world of increasing trauma and drama.

As the recent collapse of global financial markets reveals the real bankruptcy of the US economic system and its effect on economies around the world, we are witnessing just the start of a dramatic shift in the reality of the world as we know it. The collapse of the US economy is merely one of the events along with severe climatic changes that have been predicted by prophets such as Nostradamus.

According to the Mayan Prophecies, 2012 marks the end of the Age of Separation of Earth from the Universe and the dawning of a New Era of Universal Consciousness, of unity and oneness. It appears that we have arrived at the point of the long-awaited transition to a New Earth about which so many visionaries, spiritual teachers, healers and psychics have been speaking.

Dolores Cannon is one of the world's leading experts on the prophecies of Nostradamus. A hypnotherapist who specializes in past life regression, Dolores has published fourteen books documenting her psychical research. She first encountered the phenomenon of time travel when she was conducting a hypnosis session with a client and Nostradamus made contact with her.

He explained that he had been looking for someone to whom he could explain the meaning of his predictions. This resulted in the translation of over 1,000 quatrains which have been published in 3 volumes –“Conversations with Nostradamus”.

Using her unique method of somnambulistic hypnotic induction to contact the subconscious, Dolores records and catalogues her clients' experiences of different lifetimes and different forms of existence which taken together reveal a remarkable, hidden story about the evolution of the Earth. Dolores records and catalogues her clients' experiences of different lifetimes and different forms of existence which taken together reveal a remarkable, hidden story about the evolution of the Earth.

Her latest book, the Convolutioned Universe volume 3 reveals vital information about the transition to a New Earth.

As she was writing her latest book in 2007 and putting the pieces together that she had recorded through hundreds of sessions, Dolores began to get a glimpse of the underlying message that is being imparted. She says that it was too big to come through any one person. In order to get the story through to her in its entirety it had to be given piece by piece through many people. What she has discovered is a plan to save mankind which is bigger in scope than anyone can imagine.

Dolores shares her insights into the evolution to the New Earth in this extract from The Convolutioned Universe Volume III.

“The Earth is a living being that is crying out to be saved. It is trying to rid itself of the invaders by cleansing itself: floods, tsunamis, earthquakes, volcanic eruptions. They are all cries for help. It is as though the Earth is ridding itself of its own karma before it reincarnates into another existence. A pristine, beautiful, perfect new environment where it can start anew, taking along with it those who are capable of adjusting to the new vibrations and frequencies, to create a new world. The old world is headed for destruction. However it cannot be total physical destruction of the planet itself, because that would cause disruption in the vibratory field of other planetary bodies and dimensions in the universe. So the Earth has chosen to split off into two worlds, leaving those who want to continue to live in fear and violence to continue on the 'old' Earth. And creating a 'new' home environment for those who want to progress and evolve. The two types can no longer live side by side on the same planet. Things have changed too much. So the vibration and frequency has to be changed.

Everything is energy. Everything is vibrating at different frequencies. Even rocks, furniture etc are vibrating. As long as everything and everyone on the Earth is vibrating at the same, slow frequency things will stay the same. The frequency has to be raised so the Earth can split off and enter a new dimension. It's the same thing that happens to our own Earth bodies. As we learn the lessons of the physical plane we can 'graduate' to another higher dimension on the spirit side, and not have to return to the Earth school. We can progress because we will have outgrown this earthly school. Thus the Earth itself is getting ready to 'graduate' to leave the familiar, the status quo and progress into something much higher.

Yet the new Earth without human beings and life in its many diverse forms would be as an empty house. Just four walls without a soul inside. There had to be a way for the humans also to evolve so they can go with the Earth. The humans would have to also raise their vibrations. This was easier said than done, considering how many eons mankind had been trapped here. Then I understood: The karma they had before coming into this world will be left on the 'old' Earth. That is where karma will continue to exist. It has no part in the new Earth.

Volunteers are incarnating on Earth now who have come from a place that has never known violence, hatred and fear. They are bringing that vibration of positivity to Earth at this time. It is like the 'hundredth monkey syndrome'. If we can get enough humans carrying the positive vibration, it will overshadow and diminish the negative vibration. It will wipe it out or lessen its effect by sheer numbers alone.

In one session I asked about the current disasters where thousands of people are dying and leaving the planet en masse. I was told they had finished their work here and had volunteered to leave in order to make room for the new ones coming in. Then I understood. When the critical mass has been reached and enough people have succeeded in raising their vibrations and frequencies, then the new Earth will be born.

"This is the plan to save the world"

The people themselves of course have no conscious memory of their reasons for coming at this time. And that is the way it should be. They will play their role well. Those that are steeped in negativity will remain with the old Earth with what they have created. By the time they realize something is occurring it will be too late. They cannot change their frequency and vibration quickly enough to follow. It has to be a gradual thing; otherwise it would be too traumatic for the physical body to handle. Thus the separation occurs, the two Earths separate and life goes its separate ways – positive and negative.

I have discovered many of these volunteers live quiet unassuming lives. They do not create attention. They influence in quiet subtle ways. During the session many of them are old they are here just to 'be'. They influence others only by their presence, and the aura they exude. It links with others through no effort on their part and many are helped by being in their presence, or by their physical touch. It is very simple and yet very profound. There will not be any heroic dramatic efforts to save our world. It will happen by the simple presence and touch of loving, unselfish individuals. "
